778 executions were known to have been carried out in 22 countries in 2013

1,925 people in 57 countries were known to have been sentenced to death

23,392 people were on known to have been on death row worldwide in 2013

These figures do not include the thousands of executions likely to have taken place in China, which again refused to divulge figures on its use of the death penalty.