

THE POP MUSIC PIRATES

HOW SONGS BECAME FREE

Exclusive extracts from the controversial new book about the digital underground

In The New Review

Features | Reportage | Arts | Reviews | Plus David Mitchell and 7-day TV listings

THE NEW REVIEW

SKYLINE

This panel tells the reader about what is happening in another section of the paper. It is to tempt readers inside the newspaper.

WOMEN, MEN AND COOKING

Meet the world's best female chef

In this section

BRILLIANT BARÇA

Spain's champions are the new kings of Europe

In Sport

The Observer

www.observer.co.uk

Sunday 7 June 2015 £2.90 (Channel Islands: £3.30)

PRICE & DATE

The Observer costs £2.90p. The price covers 60% of the cost. The rest comes from

Poland warns Cameron not to fool voters over EU poll

- 'Travel and jobs will be hit if UK quits'
- Minister rejects migrant benefits cut

by Toby Helm
Political Editor

BYLINE

Sometimes the writer's job title or where they are writing from is included. Staff writers are always credited.

ON OTHER PAGES

Warning from Europe: you can't always get what you want In Focus, 22-23
Observer Comment 30

who met David Cameron 10 days ago in Warsaw, says that if political leaders do not tell the people of the UK the facts in advance of the planned in/out referendum, many will vote to leave, unaware of the devastating consequences.

The minister, who reiterates his country's refusal to accept Cameron's central demand - that social benefits should be denied to all EU migrants for at least four years. Britain's important plan left the British do now, and to work in other EU countries, would also be lost, and that UK businesses would suddenly face new problems, as the country would no longer be able to influence the rules of the internal market.

Trzaskowski says all European leaders want Britain to stay in the UK, but not if it means undermining EU principles, such as the free movement of labour. "No one in Europe says, 'We don't care, take it or leave it.' No, we say, 'Guys, OK, some of your sensible account, even a strange. do not say red lines. the corner- body text. The font is 9.25 point Mercury text.

Asked whether he fears the British people might vote to leave, he says: "It really depends on how the whole thing

Continued on page 5

MASTHEAD

The masthead is a specially designed logo that shows the name of the newspaper.

HEADLINE

The biggest headline on the page is called the "main splash". This is a serious story so no jokes are made in the headline.

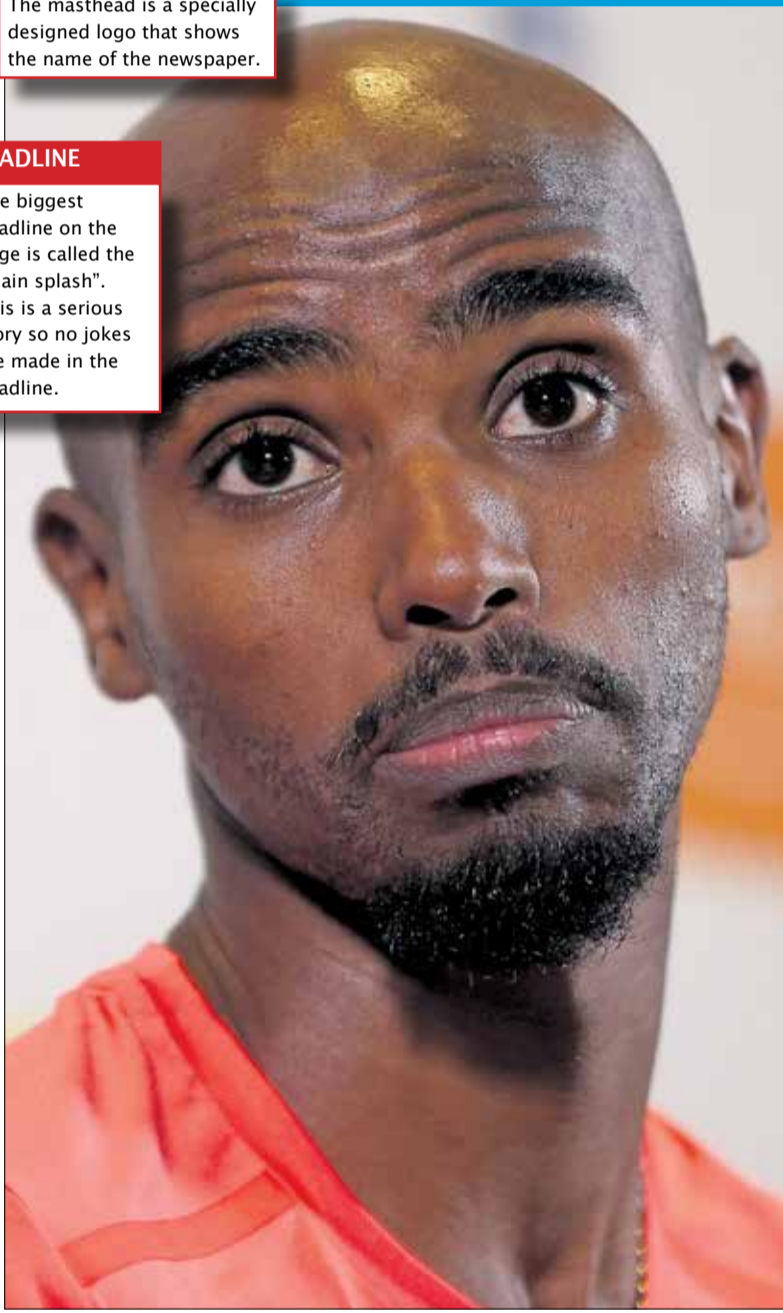

STANDFIRST

A standfirst is used to add detail that was not included in the headline.

BODYTEXT

The main "body" of a news story. Often the only part written by the reporter. This text is the Observer's standard body text. The font is 9.25 point Mercury text.

ENDS BY HIS COACH

Mo Farah says he is '100% clean' but his reputation is being damaged because he has links to Alberto Salazar, who is facing doping claims. Photograph by Ben Hoskins/Getty

Farah fury that name 'dragged through mud' in doping claim

by Sean Ingle

British Olympic champion Mo Farah said yesterday that he was angry and frustrated his name had been "dragged through the mud" after his coach, Alberto Salazar, was accused of involvement in doping. But he said he would stick with the American until he sees clear evidence against him.

Farah, who won Olympic gold in the 5,000m and 10,000m a year after joining Salazar in 2011, also insisted that he was a "100% clean athlete", but feared

ON OTHER PAGES

Nike fights bribery and doping claims 7
In Sport: reports and analysis 1, 14-15

that some would think, after watching the BBC's Panorama programme on Wednesday night, that he is guilty by association.

"I am not leaving Alberto for the reason that I've not seen any clear evidence," he said. "I have spoken to him and said, 'What's going on?' I said I need answers and he said, 'Mo, I can prove to you, these are just allegations.'"

"But I'm really angry about the situation. It's not fair. I haven't done anything, but my name is getting dragged through the mud. My reputation is getting ruined."

The list of charges against Salazar is lengthy. Among the BBC's allegations

Continued on page 14

CAPTION

Captions give a brief description of a photograph or graphic. Often they include the photographer's name.

INSIDE > WEATHER THIS SECTION PAGE 45 |

TURN

Often front page stories continue elsewhere in paper.

SPEEDY, THIS SECTION PAGE 45 EVERYMAN, PAGE 40 + AZED, PAGE

VIEW

London's best choice for contemporary sofas and furniture, at a sensible price,

EDITION STARS

Up to five different editions are printed per night. Four stars means the fourth edition.

Clouds Sofa

Chelsea | Islington | Swiss Cottage | Notting Hill | Kingston | Fulham | Westfield London | West End

CAMERICH
camerich.co.uk 020 7372 9887